Guidelines for Selection of Victorian Literature

1840 – 1910

Victoria reigned from 1837 to 1901, which is referred to as the Victorian Period, while her son, Edward VII, reigned from 1901 to 1910, which is often referred to as the Edwardian Period. For the purposes of the Feis the guideline for selection of Literature is 1840 – 1910.

There is a wealth of material available and this period is regarded as one of the finest in the history of literature. Many writers were working at this time, and many before and after the time scale. It is strongly recommended that performers select work that was written during the set time scale. Try, as much as possible to ascertain the year in which the item was written, not necessarily published. If a piece falls outside the time scale, though the author worked largely within that frame work, then the item will be admissible provided it has the tone of the period.

Listed below are recommended authors and anthologies, though not compulsory. It is not an extensive nor exclusive list, but a suggestion and a starting point for performers and teachers. Please do not hesitate to look at Irish and American authors of this period as well.
